Ilikai 2120- Welcome to our home away from home.

The Ilikai Hotel

Our upgraded ocean front condo is a deluxe property situated on the Ala Wai Yacht Marina at the edge of Waikiki on the south shore of Oahu. The hotel is known worldwide as the location where the Hawaii Five-O television series filmed the famous opening shot with Jack Lord as Steve McGarrett standing on the penthouse balcony. On the premises we have deluxe dining and lounge facilities, and an outdoor swimming pool. The Ala Moana Shopping Center and Hawaii Convention Center are both within walking distance and downtown Honolulu is ten minutes away. A hotel walkway leads directly from the lobby to Duke Kahanamoku Lagoon. This Lagoon has undergone a 15 million dollar renovation at the end of 2007. It is where Waikiki Beach begins.

Our condo is in the same building as the Ilikai Waikiki Hotel. This hotel has had several renovations in recent years. The main lobby has been remodeled to offer an elegant open-air tropical atmosphere and porte cochere. Guests can enjoy relaxing ocean views and spectacular sunsets from the patio just off of the Hotel Lobby.

Entertainment /Activities:

Bishop Museum

Bishop Museum was founded in 1889 by Charles Reed Bishop in honor of his late wife, Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop, the last descendant of the royal Kamehameha family. The Museum was established to house the extensive collection of Hawaiian artifacts and royal family heirlooms of the Princess, and has expanded to include millions of artifacts, documents and photographs about Hawaii and other Pacific island cultures.

Mr. Bishop built the magnificent Polynesian and Hawaiian Halls on the grounds of the original Kamehameha Schools for Boys. This school was established by Princess Pauahi to educate the children of Hawaii. The Museum was meant to augment that education and instill a greater pride in their Hawaiian heritage.

In the 1960's the school was relocated to a new campus, leaving room for the Museum to expand. The only school building that remains is Bishop Hall. All of the other buildings were built as part of the Museum.

Today, Bishop Museum is the largest museum in the state and the premier natural and cultural history institution in the Pacific, recognized throughout the world for its cultural collections, research projects, consulting services and public educational programs. It also has one of the largest natural history specimen collections in the world.

The Museum also operates two other institutions: Hawaii's Maritime Center (located in Honolulu Harbor next to Aloha Tower Marketplace) and the Amy B.H. Greenwell Ethno botanical Garden (on the island of Hawaii).

Damien Museum and Archives

130 Ohua Avenue, Waikiki 808-923-2690.

This is a very small museum located behind St. Augustine's Church in Waikiki. The fascinating archives depicts the life of Father Damien, who devoted his life to people suffering from Hansen's Disease (leprosy) and isolated in the Kalaupapa Settlement on the island of Molokai. A 20-minute video tells the history of this settlement.

Useful Information: ·

Open 9am - 3pm Monday through Friday; 9am - 12 noon on Saturday; closed on Sunday · Meter parking available on the street beside the church ·

Signs located outside the front of the church direct you to the museum

Directions: Take Kalakaua Ave. toward Diamond Head. Turn left on Ohua Avenue. You will see a church that faces the ocean at the corner of Kalakaua Ave and Ohua Street. The museum is located behind and to the left of the church.

Diamond Head Crater

The most famous volcanic crater in the world is Diamond Head, located on the South-east Coast of O'ahu at the end of Waikiki overlooking the Pacific Ocean. It was originally named Laeahi by the ancient Hawaiians. The name meant "brow of the tuna" and looking at the silhouette of the crater from Waikiki, you can see the resemblance. The current name came was given to the crater by British sailors in the 1800's. When they first saw the crater at a great distance, the calcite crystals in the lava rock appeared to glimmer in the sunlight. The sailors mistakenly thought there must be diamonds in the soil. Diamond Head is a volcano that has been extinct for 150,000 years. The crater is 3,520 feet in diameter with a 760-foot summit.

Useful Information:

- ❑ $1.00 admission per person
- ❑ Parking $5.00
- ❑ Diamond Head Trail is $1\frac{3}{4}$ miles to the rim and takes about $\frac{1}{2}$ hours. Go early in the day to avoid the heat - there is NO shade! Bring water and a flashlight (for the tunnel)
- ❑ Bathrooms available at the trailhead

Dole Pineapple Plantation

64-1550 Kamehameha Highway, Wahiawa
808-621-8408

The Dole Plantation is a renovated, working pineapple plantation that blends old and new. The Dole Plantation is dedicated to the perpetuation of the Hawaiian agricultural heritage. Visitors can learn how the Dole enterprise grew from a two-horse farm to the largest producer and marketer of pineapples in the world.

Useful Information:

- ❑ Open daily from 9am - 6pm
- ❑ Free, ample parking · Free self-guided tour of the plantation
- ❑ Admission to maze is $4.50 for adults, $2.50 for children
- ❑ Restrooms, gift shops, snack bars, and dining room available at this stop

Directions: Ten minutes from the town of Haleiwa on the North Shore. From Waikiki, take H-1 West to H-2 North. Continue to Kamehameha Highway - Dole Plantation is located at 64-1550 Kamehameha Highway. Approximately a 40-minute drive from Waikiki.

Duke Kahanamoku Statue- Waikiki Beach

Duke Paoa Kahanamoku lived from 1890-1968. He was born and raised in Waikiki and was a full-blooded Hawaiian, representing the culture to millions of people. He was an Olympic champion winning three gold, two silver, and one bronze medal in four Olympics between 1912 and 1922. He is known as the Father of International Surfing having introduced the sport to the Eastern seaboard. He is recognized as the "Hawaiian Ambassador of Aloha". During his lifetime, the Duke was a movie actor, political figure, and a true hero. His statue is located on Waikiki Beach where many honor him by placing leis on his statue.

Halona Blowhole

A blowhole is a lava tube under the water and at the perfect height for waves to be driven into it. The water is compressed as the lava tube becomes smaller and smaller causing the pressure to increase forcing a stream of water to shoot up to thirty-feet into the air. Be extremely cautious around the blowhole.

Useful Information:

Blowhole Scenic Lookout - excellent view of the coastline and outer islands on a clear day. During the winter months, this is a good spot to watch whales at play.

Directions: North of Haunama Bay off the Kalaniana'ole Highway

Hanauma Bay - The "Curved" Bay

7455 Kalaniana'ole Highway
1-808-396-4229

This bay was declared a protected marine life conservation area and underwater park in 1967. This is the very best beach area if you are new to Scuba diving or snorkeling with a diversified population of fish and a rich coral reef. The bay floor is the crater of a volcano that opened up to the ocean when the exterior wall collapsed.

Fees and Operating Schedule

- ❑ $1 per car parking fee
- ❑ $7.50 per person admission fee for those 13 years or older
- ❑ $1 per person shuttle bus fee each way (this is optional - there is a good, but steep, road from the parking lot area to the beachfront)
- ❑ Open from 6:00am - 7:00pm daily
- ❑ Closed on Tuesdays

Hawaii Maritime Museum

Pier 7- Honolulu Harbor

The Hawaii Maritime Center features Hawaii's ocean legacy. The museum chronicles the ancient Hawaiians, who navigated the Pacific some 1500 years before Europeans, the whaling era, the ocean liner golden age, and today's ocean sports.

Some of the most interesting exhibits include the skeletal remains of a humpback whale found in a cove off of Hawaii and a 1,805 pound Pacific Blue Marlin caught off the coast of Makaha. There is also a replica of a Polynesian sailing canoe used by the first Hawaiians and a four-mast, full-rigged ship (The Falls of Clyde).

Hawaii's Plantation Village

94-695 Waipahu St, Waipahu 808-677-0110

The Hawaii's Plantation Village reveals the story of the 400,000 people who immigrated to Hawaii to work the sugar plantations. The Plantation features 30 original and replica homes and buildings representing each ethnic group's lifestyle from 1900-1930.

Directions:

Take H1 West bound. Get off at exit 7 (Waikele/Waipahu) Turn left. Turn right onto Waipahu Street. The Plantations village will be on your left.

Iolani Palace (Oahu)

Iolani Palace was built under the direction of King David Kalakaua. Completed in 1883, the palace is a treasury of the history of Hawaiian monarchy. Also worth a visit are the Queen Emma Summer Palace in Oahu's Nuuanu Valley and Hulihee Palace in Kailua-Kona on the Big Island. These served as royal retreats; Hulihee is the oldest of the three.

Tours of Iolani Palace -- a jewel that has been lovingly restored to its original regal luster -- are given Tuesday through Saturday. A 45-minute guided tour gives you a glimpse of the grand days of Hawaii's monarchy. You pitch in by wearing fabric booties and "polishing" the floors as you tour the palace.

Reservations are suggested; tours start at 15-minute intervals, Tuesday through Saturday. It's best to book early to avoid disappointment. The palace is at the corner of King and Richards streets in Downtown Honolulu. Recording: 808/538-1471. Reservations: 808/522-0832.

Honolulu Zoo

Over 750,000 people visit the Honolulu Zoo annually. It is the largest zoo within a radius of 2,300 miles and unique in that it is the only zoo in the United States originating from a King's grant of royal lands to the people. King David Kalakaua, Monarch of Hawaii from 1874 to 1891, made lands of the Leahi Land Holdings available in 1876 to the people for a thirty year lease. That year, a "Kapiolani Park Association" of two hundred subscriber members assumed the administration of the three hundred-acre park. The marshy parcel was a muddle of fishponds, lagoons and islands where King Kalakaua maintained his collection of exotic birds. In 1877 the area was named after the King's wife and opened as Queen Kapiolani Park.

*Located between the slopes of Diamond Head and Waikiki
at the corner of Kapahulu Ave. and Kalakaua Blvd.
The Zoo parking lot entrance is on Kapahulu Ave.
(twenty-five cents per hour)*

Zoo Hours: 9:00 am to 4:30 pm daily

Closed Christmas Day & New Year's Day

24 hour visitor information: (808) 971-7171

King Kamehameha I Statue - "The Water of Ha'o"

The most beloved and illustrious of Hawaii's heroes, Kamehameha unified the Hawaiian Island. His government maintained peace and traditional values even under intense Western influence. This statue is one of three cast in Paris from a model made by American artist T.R. Gould.

Luau's

The spirit of Aloha flows more at a luau than anywhere else in Hawaii. The luau is a celebration of family, food, and togetherness. Usually held at sunset next to the ocean, the luau includes an all-you-can-eat buffet, Hawaiian dancing, and Polynesian entertainment. Traditional food consists of kalua pork, steak, chicken, fish, vegetables, rice, and tropical fruits. The most popular luaus on O'ahu are The Royal Hawaiian Hotel(Monday's), Germaines, Paradise Cove, and the Polynesian Cultural Center. We have been to them all and think the The Royal Hawaiian is the best, but also the most expensive.

Pali Lookout (Nuuanu Pali)

The Nuuanu Pali Lookout, overlooking the 985 foot cliffs of the Koolau Mountain Range, is one of the best views on O'ahu. It was here in 1795 that King Kamehameha and his warriors defeated the O'ahu armies by sending them over these steep, forested cliffs and claiming his victory and uniting the Hawaiian Islands. The breathtaking sight and the gruesome history of the battle fought here is enough to cause a chill to run up your spine. Add to that the incredible winds that often pass through the Pali and you may be swept off your feet!

Directions: Take H1 east bound from Waikiki. Then take the Pali Highway, Route 61, via Nu'uanua Pali Drive. Go $\frac{1}{2}$ mile beyond Queen Emma's Summer Palace. Follow the signs to the Lookout.

Punchbowl Crater

2177 Puowaina Drive,
Honolulu
808-532-3720

In ancient times, the extinct volcanic Punchbowl Crater was known as Puowaina which means "Consecrated Hill" or "Hill of Sacrifice". It was the site of many secret Ali'i (royal) burials and a place where offenders of certain Kapus (taboos) were sacrificed.

Today, the Hill of Sacrifice is the location of the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific where 33,230 service men and women from four wars are buried.

Useful Information:

- Open 8am-6:30pm daily
- Free Admission

Directions: Located above the city of Honolulu, take Ward Avenue off of Ala Moana Boulevard. Take a right on Prospect Street and follow the signs into the Punchbowl, The Cemetery is also accessible from H1 or the Pali Highway. Follow the signs.

Sea Life Park

Hawaii's marine life comes alive in a dazzling display that will entertain and delight. Located just 15 miles from Waikiki on Oahu's beautiful and scenic Makapuu Point, Sea Life Park is a world-class marine attraction perched between the majestic Koolau Mountain Range and breathtaking Makapuu Beach. See dolphins dance, sea lions sing, and penguins perform in this magical place by the sea

Sea Life Park is open daily from 9:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
A full schedule of shows is provided in the morning and afternoon.

Swap Meet (Aloha Stadium)

Located in the Aloha Stadium, the Swap Meet is a terrific place to find a bargain. Three days a week, hundreds of vendors circle the stadium to sell their wares under tents. Visitors can find everything from Hawaiian shirts to tropical plants to native foods.

Useful Information:

- ❑ Admission: $ 1.00 per person
- ❑ Open 7am - 4pm, Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday
- ❑ Ample, free parking
- ❑ Rest room facilities available
- ❑ Limited concession vendors - bring water and wear sunscreen

Directions:

Take H1 west bound from Waikiki. Take the Moanalua Freeway (78) and follow signs to the Aloha Stadium.

Torch Lighting Ceremony at The Ilikai

A popular Hawaiian tradition begins with the setting of the sun. Summoned by the blowing of a conch shell, guests may experience a dazzling twilight torch lighting ceremony in the Ilikai's open-air courtyard overlooking Waikiki Beach, Duke Kahanamoku Lagoon and the Ala Wai Yacht Marina. An Ilikai tradition for more than 35 years, this memorable ceremony is held at sunset daily.

USS Arizona National Park

The USS Arizona has rested in its watery grave at Pearl Harbor since December 7, 1941. The overturned hull of this battleship entombed some 1,100 sailors caught unaware by the Japanese bombs that sank this mighty ship.

The memorial was completed in 1961. It is 184-feet long and crosses the Arizona's mid-section. A complete visit starts with a 20-minute historic film and goes on to a short ride aboard a Navy launch to the memorial site.

Useful Information:

- ❑ Admission is entirely free. Ample, free parking available
- ❑ Shirt and shoes are required at the memorial
- ❑ Navy shuttle operates from 8am-3pm daily
- ❑ Tour of the museum, movie about the attack, and trip to the memorial takes approximately 2-3 hours
- ❑ Gift shop, snack bar, rest room facilities available

Directions:

From Waikiki: Take H1 west bound toward the airport. After you pass Likelike Highway get into the right lane. Stay on H1 and follow the signs to Pearl Harbor.

Waikiki Aquarium

2777 Kalakaua Avenue,
Waikiki
808-923-9741

Founded in 1904, the Waikiki Aquarium is the third oldest aquarium in the U.S. The aquarium is part of the University of Hawaii and is located on the shores of Waikiki. Exhibits, programs, and research focuses on the aquatic life of the tropical Pacific.

Over 2,500 organisms from 420 species are on exhibit at the aquarium. The Aquarium is especially noted for its coral reef exhibit which allows visitors to get a close-up look at reef sharks, living coral, sea jellies, reef fish, and more.

Useful Information:

Open 9am-5pm daily, except Christmas Day Open 9am-3pm on Thanksgiving Day Opens at 11am on New Years Day

Admission: $7 for Adults, $3.50 for Youths (13-17 years), Children 12 and under are Free

Directions: Take Kalakaua toward the Honolulu Zoo. After you cross Kapahulu get in the right lane and the Waikiki Aquarium will be on the right.
